
10 Appendices

These appendices provide regional views of the distribution of livestock production systems and detailed tables with numbers of rural poor livestock keepers. Appendix A lists the 2010 World Bank regions and related country income groupings that were used in the analysis (World Bank 2010).

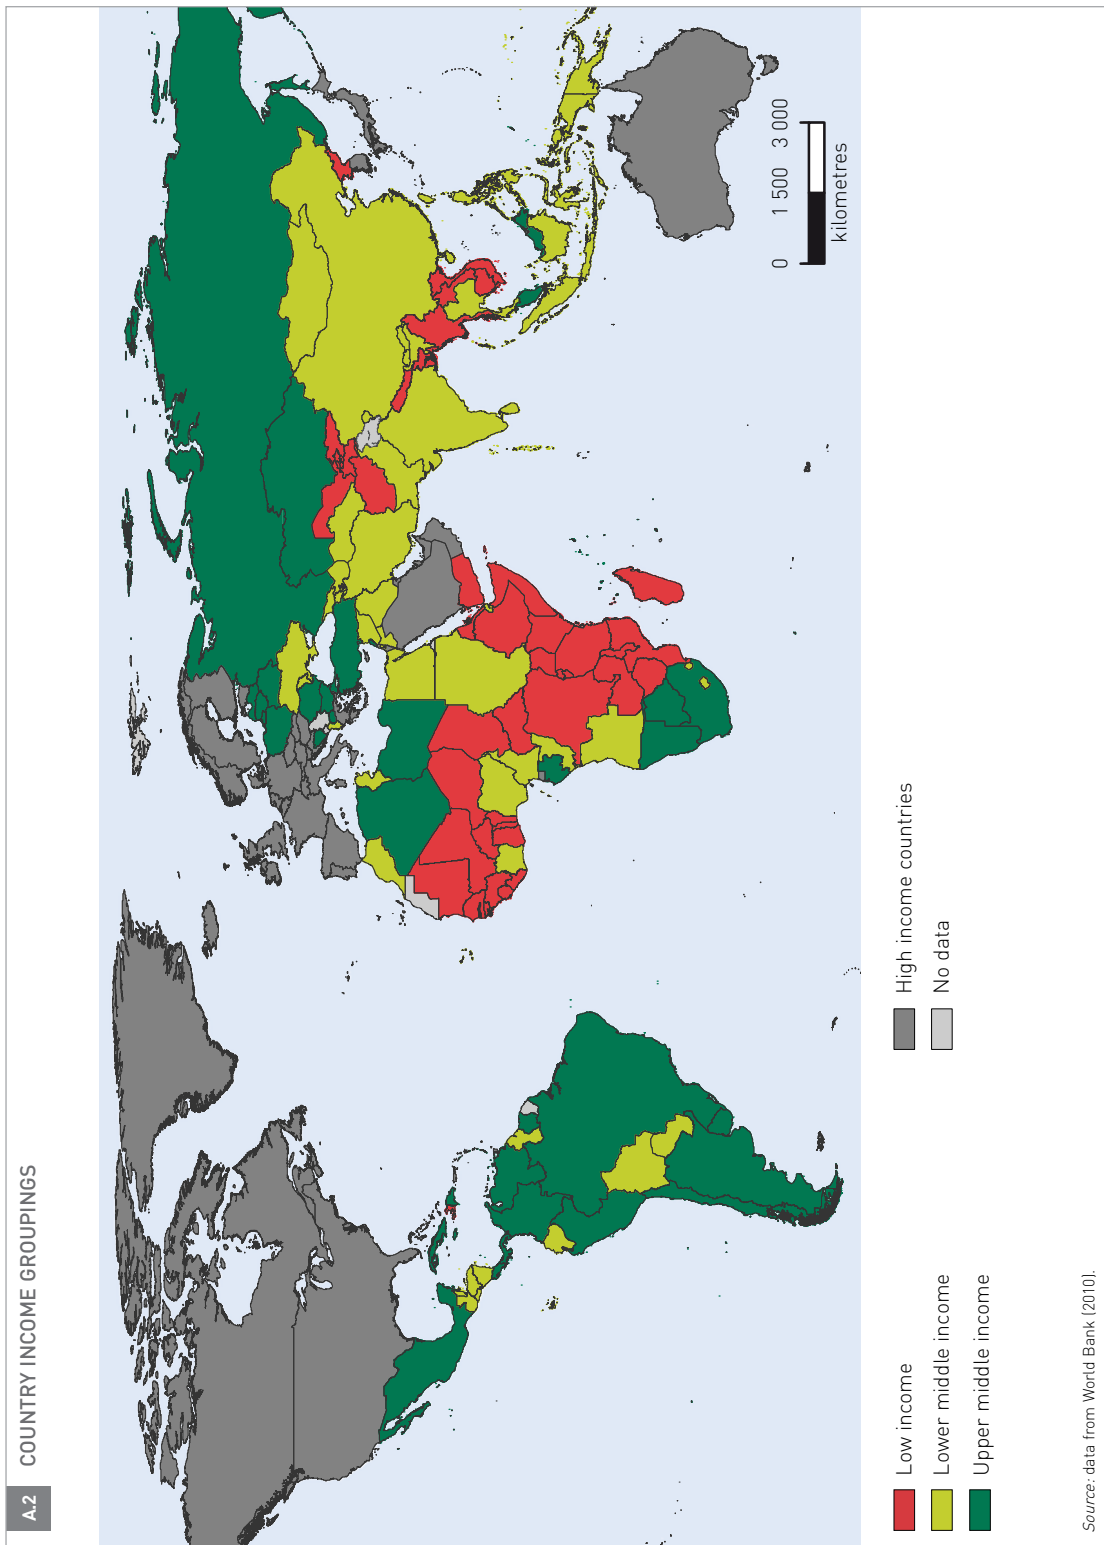

Appendices B to G open with regional maps of livestock production systems. The livestock production systems used in the appendices are those from Version 5, described in Section 3 of this publication (see Table 3.1). For the purpose of this analysis of rural poor livestock keepers, the hyper-arid and arid production systems were aggregated into a single arid category. These appendices then provide detailed tables of the numbers of rural poor livestock keepers by country and by livestock production system. The spatial distribution of the rural population is derived from the GRUMP dataset (CIESIN, 2005), which was adjusted to match the 2010 UN rural and urban population totals for each country. The tables contain estimated numbers of rural poor livestock keepers using poverty rates based on three different poverty lines: 1) national, rural; 2) international US$1.25 (extreme poor); and 3) international US$2.00 (poor). Poverty rates were taken from World Bank (2011).
