
GOALS OF THE WORKSHOP

- To encourage the exchange of knowledge/dialogue between experts in the field;
- To agree on an approach for the study of coupling mechanisms between fish population dynamics and environmental factors which could be applied in a possible future project;
- To begin to identify which are the useful data sources and owners;
- To begin to assess availability of this data;
- To assess the feasibility of a future cooperative project.