

THE GERMAN TEAM FOR CCNFSDU 40

A warm Welcome to the 40th session of the Codex Committee on Foods for Special Dietary Uses!

The German team is looking forward to an interesting and successful meeting. Do not hesitate to approach us should you have content-related or organizational inquiries.

And these are the women in the German team and their responsibilities:

Dr Anja Brönstrup is chairing this year's CCNFSDU meeting. Being a nutritionist by training, Anja has experience in both risk assessment and risk management. Before joining the German Federal Ministry of Food and Agriculture in 2016, Anja worked for national and international scientific authorities, including the European Food Safety Authority (EFSA).

Hilke Thordsen is co-chair of this year's CCNFSDU meeting. Having worked for the German Federal Ministry of Food and Agriculture in many different areas, she has ample experience in general food law, especially with respect to food labelling. CCNFSDU is new to her, but she is thrilled by the thought of contributing to this important Codex committee.

Klara Jirzik is taking the role of assistant to the chairs, ensuring that discussions run smoothly and results of discussions are being captured on-screen. Klara is a certified Food Chemist and works at the German Federal Office of Consumer Protection and Food Safety. She has over seven years of experience in the field of risk management and regulatory affairs related to food safety and nutrition.

Alina Steinert is responsible for everything behind the scene. Alina has a degree in Public Management. She is leading the German secretariat of CCNFSDU for almost five years and may be approached for all organizational matters.
