ABOUT Jinan

Jinan is the capital of Shandong province in Eastern China. As the hometown of Confucius, Shandong is one of the birthplaces of ancient Chinese culture. Mount Tai in Shandong was listed in the World Natural and Cultural Heritage, and is one of the UNESCO Global Geoparks. The area of present-day Jinan has played an important role in the history of the region from the earliest beginnings of civilization and has evolved into a major national administrative, economic, and transportation hub. Jinan is often called the "Springs City" for its famous 72 artesian springs, in which the most famous ones are Baotu Spring and Black Tiger Spring.
