

Building Climate Change Resilience in Mountains

Global Landscapes Forum: technical and networking session

Saturday 16 November 2013

16:30-18:30

Room 214, 215 & 216 (Combined), Old Library Building

University of Warsaw

Organized by the Mountain Partnership Secretariat (MPS), the panel will focus on the impacts of climate change and the existing constraints in building resilience in mountain areas

16.30	Video: Why Mountains Matter and introductory remarks.
16.35	Eduardo Rojas-Briales - Assistant Director-General, FAO Forestry Department
16.45	Keith Alverson - Head of the Climate Change Adaptation and Terrestrial Ecosystems Branch, UNEP
16.55	Hanta Rabetaliana - President, World Mountain People Association, Madagascar
17.05	Eklabya Sharma - Director of Programme Operations, ICIMOD
17.15	Koko Warner - Head of Environmental Migration, Social Vulnerability and Adaptation Section, UNU-EHS
17.25	Eduardo Durand - Director of Climate Change, Ministry of Environment of Peru
17.40	Summary of the presentations and recommendations on how mountains can build climate change resilience. Thomas Hofer , Coordinator of the MPS
17.50	Panel discussion on how a landscapes approach that includes mountains can contribute to the UNFCCC discussions and the Sustainable Development Goals
18.10	Questions
18.25	Conclusions, final remarks

