2020 Food Waste Challenge - Fundación Ingenio

Fundación Ingenio is launching the 2020 Food Waste Challenge, a joint initiative along with Kiatt Group. The aim is to identify the best 5 international deep tech projects with solutions that contribute to solving the problem of food waste, and make sure that their innovations are evolved into a product or service that creates a positive social impact. These 5 projects can either come from research and technology centers, and universities; or from start-ups and more mature SMEs with a scientific and technological base.

Cooking show by GACSA

We would like to encourage you to send us a video (5-7 minutes) using a format of a Cooking Show (directly from your kitchen), on your latest Climate Smart Agriculture recipes (projects/programme) on national/regional/global level, which we will then use to create a full concept on our website and on our YouTube channel. If you have any questions, please email GACSA Communication Specialist, Jana Stankova at jana.stankova@fao.org. If you need some inspiration check out our website!
